

AGGRESSION REPLACEMENT TRAINING FOR FOSTER PARENTS

Presented By Mike Canfield

Mike Canfield has a BA in Psychology. He has worked in a group home and is a current licensed foster home for adolescents. He and his wife Beth are board members of the Foster Parents of Washington. He has developed training for foster parents, and case aides. His past employment was with Kitsap Mental Health Services as a Child and Family Therapist. He is a lead trainer of the Aggressive Replacement Training in Kitsap County and has presented at the Washington State Foster Parent Conference and trained ART throughout the United States. Together with his wife Beth Canfield they have fostered over two hundred and fifty difficult, aggressive and or acting out children and teens.

Parenting aggressive youth can be extremely taxing on the skills of even the most experienced foster parents. Foster parents of these youth may have to add new skills to their repertoire. In this one day training we will introduce foster parents to the concepts that drive aggressive behavior and the training required to give youth a chance for success.
